

GEMS™

GEMS, Apex's Global Editorial Management System, is a fully integrated, web-based platform that manages your freelance workforce to keep projects on schedule, and on budget, from start to finish.

Apex realizes that finding the right freelancer for a job can be time consuming. However, with GEMS:

- You simply enter your project timeline and specifications, and it identifies the top-most qualified resources in your talent pool who are available for the assignment.
- Once work is assigned, files are auto-transferred to the freelancer. The schedule is tracked through the software and reminder notifications are sent automatically.
- When the work is completed, files are Quality Certified and the project is advanced to the next stage. This process ensures a high-quality end product delivered on schedule.

GEMS is the future of editorial management. With it managing your freelance project workflow, you'll be one solution ahead.
